FEDERAL COMMUNICATIONS
COMMISSION

47 CFR Ch. I

Unified Agenda of Federal Regulatory and Deregulatory Actions; October 1996

AGENCY: Federal Communications Commission.

ACTION: Semiannual regulatory agenda.

SUMMARY: Twice a year, the Commission publishes a list in the Unified Agenda of those major items and other significant proceedings under development or review that pertain to the Regulatory Flexibility Act. The Agenda also provides the CFR citations and legal authorities which govern these proceedings. The Regulatory Flexibility Act (94 Stat. 1167; 5 U.S.C. 605) includes notations on the applicability of the Regulatory Flexibility Act to each item. The Unified Agenda will be published in the Federal Register in April and October of each year.

ADDRESSES: Federal Communications Commission, 1919 M Street NW.,
Washington, DC 20554.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT:
Nancy Camp, Office of Managing Director, (202) 418-0442.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

Unified Agenda of Major and Other Significant Proceedings

The Commission encourages public participation in the FCC rulemaking process. To help keep the public informed of significant rulemaking proceedings, the Commission has prepared an agenda of important proceedings now in progress. OMB will publish the Unified Agenda in the Federal Register in April and October of each year.

The following terms may be helpful in understanding the status of the proceedings included in this report:

Docket Number - assigned to a proceeding if the Commission has issued either a Notice of Proposed Rulemaking or a Notice of Inquiry concerning the matter under consideration. The Commission has used docket numbers since January 1, 1978. Docket numbers consist of the last two digits of the calendar year in which the docket was established, plus a sequential number, which begins at 1 with the first docket initiated during a calendar year (e.g., Docket 80-1 or Docket 83-1). The abbreviation for the responsible Bureau usually precedes the docket number, as in "MM Docket 79-164," which indicates that the responsible Bureau is the Mass Media Bureau. A docket number consisting of only five digits (e.g., Docket 29622) indicates that the docket was established before January 1, 1978.

Notice of Inquiry (NOI) - issued by the Commission when it is seeking information on a broad subject or trying to generate ideas on a given topic. A comment period is specified during which all interested parties may submit comments.

Further Notice of Inquiry (FNOI)

Notice of Proposed Rulemaking (NPRM) - issued by the Commission when it is proposing a specific change to the FCC Rules and Regulations. Before any changes are actually made, interested parties may submit written comments on the proposals.

Further Notice of Proposed Rulemaking (FNPRM)

Memorandum Opinion and Order (MO&O) - issued by the Commission to deny a petition for rulemaking, conclude an inquiry, modify a decision, or deny a petition for reconsideration of a decision.

Rulemaking (RM) Number - assigned to a proceeding after the appropriate Bureau/Office has reviewed a petition for rulemaking but before the Commission has taken action on the petition.

Report and Order (R&O) - issued by the Commission to state a new or amended rule or state that the FCC Rules will not be changed.

William F. Caton,
Acting Secretary,
Federal Communications Commission.

Abstract: The Commission released a NPRM seeking comment on proposed regulations clarifying and interpreting the requirements of Section 222 of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended (Communications Act). That section, which Section 702 of the Telecommunications Act of 1934 added to the Communications Act, governs the use of customer proprietary network information (CPNI) by telecommunications carriers, including the Bell Operating Companies (BOC), American Telephone and Telegraph (AT&T), and GTE Corporation (GTE). Under Section 222, telecommunications carriers that receive or obtain CPNI by virtue of their provision of telecommunications service may use or disclose individually identifiable CPNI only to provide the telecommunications service from which they derive the information or to provide necessary related services, including directory publishing, except in certain circumstances specified in the statute. In the NPRM, the Commission proposed and invited comment on a regulatory regime that would balance consumer privacy and competitive considerations to ensure that telecommunications carriers comply with their obligations under Section 222 to maintain the privacy of CPNI and other customer information. In addition, the NPRM stated that the Commission sought comment on whether these CPNI requirements should be amended in light of the language and goals of the 1996 Act.

CFR Citation: 47 CFR 64; 47 CFR 1

Legal Deadline: None

Abstract: Section 272 of the 1996 Act required that a BOC provide manufacturing activities, the origination of the in-region interLATA telecommunications services, and interLATA information services (with the exception of electronic publishing and alarm monitoring) through a separate affiliate. The 1996 Act also sets forth specific statutory requirements for BOC provision of electronic publishing and LEC provision of alarm monitoring and Telemessaging services. Pursuant to section 274, a BOC that chooses to provide electronic publishing services disseminated by means of its or its affiliate's basic telephone service must do so either through a "separate affiliate" or an "electronic publishing joint venture" and must comply with certain joint marketing restrictions and nondiscrimination requirements. Section 275 delays until February 8, 2001, entry into alarm monitoring services by a BOC or its affiliate that was not providing this service as of November 30, 1995. Although Section 275 does not impose a separate affiliate requirement on BOC provision of alarm monitoring services, and therefore permits these services to be provided on an integrated basis, it establishes nondiscrimination requirements applicable to all incumbent LECs. Similarly, Section 260 of the Act does not impose separate affiliate requirements but does establish certain nondiscrimination requirements on incumbent LEC provision of telemessaging services.

Legal Deadline: None

Abstract: On March 25, 1996, the Commission released an NPRM seeking comment on its proposal that non-dominant interexchange carriers should no longer file tariffs. Absent the tariff requirement, long distance companies would be free to change prices or offer new services without first filing with the Commission. The Commission also initiated a review of its regulations of interstate, domestic, interexchange telecommunications services, to determine whether and how its policies and rules should be changed, consistent with the goals of the Telecommunications Act of 1996 (the 1996 Act) that provide for a procompetitive, deregulatory national telecommunications policy framework. The Commission has proposed rules to implement the geographic rate averaging and rate integration requirements of the 1996 Act, and to eliminate its prohibition against the bundling of CPE with the provision of interexchange services by non-dominant carriers. The Commission has also requested comment on several other issues relating to separation requirements and the regulation of contract tariffs. On August 7, 1996, the Commission released an Order addressing the Section 254(g) requirements of the Communications Act.

Act. The FNPRM proposes that the Commission's current carrier selection change rules be modified to apply to all telecommunications carriers, not just interexchange carriers. The FNPRM also proposes to require that: (1) any carrier violating such rules forfeit to the original carrier any payments made by the customer whose selection was changed without authorization; and (2) the original carrier provide or restore to the customer any premiums to which the customer would have been entitled. Finally, the FNPRM proposes various procedures for implementing these requirements.

CFR Citation: 47 CFR 61.3(o); 47 CFR 61.3(t)

Legal Deadline: None

Abstract: The Commission sought comment on whether to relax the dominant carrier regulation that currently applies to region, interstate, domestic, interLATA services provided by the BOC's affiliates, in light of the 1996 Act, superseding the MFJ's prohibition against the BOC's provision of in-region interstate, domestic, interLATA services. The Commission tentatively concluded that it should apply the same regulatory approach it adopts for a BOC affiliate's provision of in-region, interstate, domestic, interLATA service to a BOC affiliate's provision of in-region services. In addition, the Commission sought comment concerning whether to modify the existing rules for regulating the independent LEC's provisions of in-region, interstate, interexchange services. The Commission tentatively concluded that it should apply the same regulatory approach it adopts for an independent LEC's provision of interstate, domestic, interexchange services originating within its local service area to an independent LEC's provision of international services originating within its local service area.

Abstract: On February 14, 1996 the Commission released a NPRM proposing a regulatory regime to govern the BOC's provision of all "out-of-region" interstate, interexchange services (including interLATA and intraLATA services). On July 1, 1996, the Commission released a Report and Order which decided, on an interim basis, to remove dominant carrier regulation for BOCs providing out-of-region interLATA services through an affiliate meeting certain separate requirements which are applied to independent LEC provision of interexchange services. The separation requirements are that the affiliate: (1) maintain separate books of account from the LEC; (2) not jointly own transmission or switching facilities with the LEC; and (3) is using a LEC's tariffed services, acquire them via the LEC's tariffs. Under the Report and Order, BOC interexchange affiliates are treated as nonregulated affiliates under the Commission's joint cost and affiliate transactions rules for the purposes of BOC accounting. This interim measure will enable BOCs to begin competing in the interexchange market on a non-dominant basis and will remain in effect until at least completion of the Commission's broader rulemaking proceeding, the Interexchange NPRM.

Abstract: The Commission seeks to develop a record on permitting non-U.S. satellites to serve the U.S. market if U.S. satellites have effective competitive opportunities to provide similar services. In general the Commission proposes to allow non-U.S. satellites to serve the U.S. if there are no de jure or de facto barriers that prevent U.S. satellites from providing analogous services in the home and route markets of the U.S. satellite. The Commission proposes to retain the licensing requirements for receive-only earth stations in the fixed satellite service that communicate with non-U.S. satellites but deregulate receive-only earth stations operating with U.S. satellites for the reception of signals from foreign countries.

Legal Deadline: Final, Statutory, August 8, 1996.

Abstract: In its Report and Order, the Commission removed statutory, regulatory, and operational barriers to local telephone services competition. The Commission instituted a framework of minimum, national rules that will enable the states and itself to begin implementing the local competition provisions of the Telecommunications Act of 1996. The order addressed the three paths of entry into the local telephone market enumerated by the Act of 1996. These three paths are full facilities based entry, purchasing of unbundled network elements from the incumbent local exchange carrier (LEC), and resale of the incumbent's retail services. The Commission prescribed certain minimum points of interconnection necessary to permit competing carriers to choose the most efficient points at which to interconnect with the incumbent LEC's network. It also adopted a minimum list of unbundled network elements that incumbent LECs must make available to new entrants, upon request.
